

Lovers of Light

27 January to 26 February 2012

Margate Gallery is delighted to present “Lovers of Light”, a joint exhibition by Sally Trueman and Patricia Castle from 27 January – 26 February 2012.

Both artists have come together to share their passion for light whether it falls onto a sun-drenched Mediterranean landscape or nudes bathed in sunlight, the artist capturing the swirling movements and reflections of seawater.

Private View | 27 January | 5.00 pm – 9.00 pm | all welcome

2 Lombard Street,
Margate, Kent CT9 1EJ
01843 292779
www.margategallery.co.uk

Opening Times: Mon- Sat 11am-5pm, Sunday 12-4pm.

Sally Trueman has enjoyed many solo exhibitions in the UK, and abroad, followed by museum acquisitions and public commissions. Her work makes up part of the Museum of Carcassonne, the Brighton Museum Collections as well as the Morton private museum, in New York.

Patricia Castle has exhibited widely. Her work has been shown in the Southwark Festival, with the Royal Society of British Artists, The Royal Society of Marine Painters, The Wellcome Foundation, Price Waterhouse and Lloyds of London.